

Our charming Ladue home is more than 130 years old, with all the problems an old home comes with. Huneke Engineering was recommended to us by a large corporate engineering firm for their residential structural assessment and resolution qualifications. Tom and his team of extremely knowledgeable engineers did a wonderful job and were able to familiarize themselves with the house and assess our needs and concerns in a very reasonable amount of time. I believe that all of our structural problems have been resolved and I look forward to work with Huneke Engineering on our upcoming kitchen expansion.
